

WE NOMINATE

Robert Laning Clifford, a "man with a mission," who recently concluded a 46-day tour of the United States as coordinator of the widely publicized Asia Town Hall Mission which succeeded in bringing thousands upon thousands of Americans into direct contact with spokesmen for a dozen different countries of Free Asia and the Near East—extending from Egypt to Japan. Never before, until Clifford and his associates in Town Hall, Inc., grabbed the initiative, had it been possible for so many Americans in all walks of life to exchange information and points of view with government officials, educators, editors and other leaders from "the other side of the world."

The idea behind the Town Hall Mission, that launched its 22-city "swing" here in March and eventually reached such centers as Chicago, Kansas City, Los Angeles and Yankton, S. D., was simply "people-to-people" association between Asians and Americans. To this end, the 43-year old Clifford, for some five post-war years a U.S. Foreign Service Officer, flew to 22 Asian cities last fall to meet and engage prospective speakers. Well realizing that no single person, or group of persons, could speak for all of Asia with its area and differing problems, Clifford lined up a remarkable collection of participants, each of whom was qualified to discuss a particular regional topic.

The success of their unique venture, underwritten by American business firms, private foundations and Town Hall, was indicated over the weekend in an interview granted at the United Nations by the Clifford-nominated

Indian representative, Govindan Ramachandran, educator-sociologist-journalist and a follower of the late Mohandas K. Gandhi. Contrary to his expectations upon arriving in the Western Hemisphere for the first time, Ramachandran said that he found no signs of a "widening gap between Indian and United States views" and was impressed by the fact that the average American had shown "great tolerance toward every other point of view."

To his task of stimulating more positive American interest in Asia and the Near East, this Illinois-born son of an attorney—a member of Princeton University's Class of 1933—brought a wealth of experience. One of the few American officers to win World War II combat awards in three theaters of war (African, Mediterranean and China-Burma-India), Clifford served for almost two years with the South East Asia Command before holding forth as a U.S. Foreign Service Officer in Belgrade, Rangoon, and Beirut. His pre-Town Hall assignments included association in an executive capacity with American industry and a tour of duty as a consultant to the Ford Foundation.

For making it possible for qualified Asians to take part in the some 400 "community meetings" and thereby gain new familiarity with the American scene; for tightening the bonds which surely exist between the New and Free Asiatic Worlds; for helping emphasize this country's heart-felt desire in hearing all sides of vitally important Asian questions; he is Town Topics' nominee for

Township School Timetable Set.
With its special election date moved back to June 23 because state approval is needed to exceed the present school district borrowing power, the Township Board of Education last week outlined its timetable leading up to the vote on the proposed new
'Littlebrook School.'
The first step will be a hearing
next Wednesday before the state commissioner of education. The present and future needs of the district will be explained, along with proposed building plans to meet the needs, and a request for extension of borrowing power for the district.
William L. Wilson, chairman of the board's finance committee said that a fairly strong case for the extension can be presented on the basis of anticipated increase in tax rateables, current financial status and the need for additional facilities.
The recent average yearly increase of pupils in the Township has amounted to nearly two classrooms a year. Based on the facts here and experiences of other municipalities, state approval is likely to be granted for the expansion.
If approval is given, a public hearing on the plans will be held on June 7. Fulmer and Bowers, architects for the building program, will present plans in sketch

Borough and Township police guarded the First National Bank, the Princeton Bank and Trust Company and the latter's Shopping Center Branch during their business hours on Monday. The action was taken in response to a State Police warning that a holdup might be staged.
The day passed without incident, and further amplification of the tip was not forthcoming. The public had little difficulty, however, in discerning that unusual precautions were being taken. In addition to a plainclothesman inside
each bank, a uniformed policeman armed with a "tommy gun" was stationed in the corridor leading to the elevator
in the First National Bank and in the former grocery store next to the Princeton

cial June 23 election for action on the necessary bond issue.

"God's Man Alone." In California, the 20,000-seat Hollywood Bowl has been sold out for weeks
for the night of Tuesday, May 24.
The occasion is the production of a colorful dramatic pageant depicting the 16th century crusade
for freedom by the Scotsman John Knox.
Producer of the spectacle will be John F. Becker of the Somerville Road, who last summer was responsible for "Festival of Faith," the large-scale religious spectacle that drew more than 100,000 persons to Chicago's huge Soldier's Field. Next week's drama is a presentation of the 167th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A.

A cast of 200 and a 250-voice choir will be under Mr. Becker's direction, while a 70-piece orchestra will play. Both music and dance will be liberally used to tell the story, which has been written by Helen Kromer. Mr. Becker and Miss Kromer collaborated three years ago on "Presbyterian Panorama," which filled New York's Madison Square Garden to capacity during the 1952 General Assembly.
The California production, entitled "God's Man Alone," will be staged under the stars, with spectacular use of spot and flood lights illuminating the huge cast and the scores of dancers. Sample from the stage directions: "A long narrow platform reached by steps stage left and right stretches across upstage center.
Flood lights are to be placed behind it, so that galley slaves may be silhouetted."
As was the case last summer
in Chicago, the scope of the undertaking is such that no rain date can be planned in the event of inclement weather. Mr. Becker, who has been in California for nearly a month to plan and rehearse the drama, has his fingers crossed that the Chamber of Commerce propaganda on sunny Southern California lives up to advance hilling. The New Year's Day Tournament of Roses and Rose Bowl football game were soaked by pouring dew.

Under the plan, shoppers

$10 or more at a participating store will receive a shiny sil-

day. A meeting of the Township planning Board this Tuesday at 8 in Township Hall will take the place of the regular June meeting, and among matters to be aired are the sub-division of the Russell Estate and a petition opposing the so-called Rosedale-Kingston By-Pass which has been on the master plan for the past four years.

The June meeting will be closed
in order to consider the recommendations for zoning revision which have been prepared by planning consultant Charles K.
Agle. A letter of petition addressed to Mr. Agle and the planning board is likely to be brought up
at Tuesday's meeting.

The petition requests that the zoning legislation include changes which would "prevent construction . . . in Residence District
No. One, which is out of character and conformity with existing construction." The petition is signed by more than 50 residents of the Stony Brook area on or near Quaker Road and was originated by Charles C. Davis Jr.

The petition asks that in the computing of rear yards, no area be used which includes a body of water or swamp naturally flooded at some times during the year,
and that front yard requirements
be increased from 200 to 400 feet
in the district.

The petitioners also seek to prevent the installing of cesspools or septic tanks when sanitary sewers of buildings within 100 feet are connected to the municipal system. Residents of the area involved attacked housing being constructed on the Stony Brook side of Quaker Road
at the Township Committee meeting six weeks ago.

4,500-Mile Mission. Hours after he had been alerted on Saturday, April 23, Dr. Nathaniel L. Greenfield, a member of the Princeton Hospital Staff for the past three years, was "airborne" heading for Bogota, Colombia, to do his best for a man reported at death's edge following a severe attack of bulbar spinal polio.

Less than a fortnight later Jean Model, a mining engineer with interests in gold-mining operations in Colombia, was resting comfortably in Roosevelt Hospital,
New York City, to where he had been flown as an iron-lung patient by an American military transport plane.

In Colombia Dr. Greenfield, a consultant in communicable diseases to the World Health Organization of the United Nations and also a consultant to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, had performed under semi-primitive conditions a delicate, life-saving operation and had arranged to have an iron lung flown in from Panama.

This week, when questioned
about the dramatic episode, Dr.
Greenfield, who has figured in several equally spectacular medical cases and is associated with the Willard Parker and Roosevelt Hospitals in New York as well as with Princeton Hospital, said: "It isn't much of a story."

Return of the Riot. After a two-year absence, student rioting returned to Nassau Street shortly before midnight Tuesday. Interpretations of the outburst range from the undergraduate conception of good-natured fun
to the thorough irritation of many a resident of the community. This time primarily firemen summoned by a false alarm and a running hydrant.

Actual harm inflicted was negligible compared to the uprising of 1953, when store windows were smashed and automobiles and other property severely damaged. Police and proctors had the crowd of more than 500
students fairly well under control throughout the uproar, although it took nearly 90 minutes
from the start of the riot at 11-10
to disperse the crowd.

Two or three street signs were broken, a few trash cans were tipped over and burned, and traffic had to be detoured from the center of Nassau Street.
Townpeople who hoped that the first such demonstration this year would be the last were resigned to the fact that chances of riots departing from the Prince-

It's New to Us

Jacaranda and Alligator . . . are two unrelated Brazilian exports and we found them side by side on the new gift shelves they have now at the Brazil Coffee and Food Shop, a member of the Rosedale family on Alexander Street.

Jacaranda is -- but of course you know! -- an extremely hard wood that has been used for hand carvings and for elaborate inlay work. It is the substance used to make a massive or head book-end set, and a pair of wall plaques that show the head of a Brazilian Indian, and the profile of a woman.

Jacaranda is also one of the pieces the Brazilian Crafts-men do so well. The Brazil Shop has, to illustrate, innumerable little boxes for cigarettes, or jewelry with the tops showing various tropical scenes -- mostly of Rio harbor -- all made of wood pieces in various shades, fitted together to make the picture. The wood is not painted; it is used in its natural state, and the blending of wood tones is warm and remarkably effective.

The alligator is not a refugee from a Rosedale locker, but the source of a fine and supple belt. These are men's belts, polished and without ornament, for $6. They are lined with antelope.

Ladies who admire alligator may buy leather lapel flowers, single or double, in good dark brown, a warm tan, or bottle green. Fine accessory for a fall suit. They are $3.50 and $4, depending on whether you buy single or double flowers.

For women shoppers, probably the greatest attraction in the assembly of gifts -- brought back to Princeton by a member of the Rizzo family by the way -- is the collection of hand-tooled cowhide bags and belts to match. For $10 and up, you may have a draw-string, flap, or knitting bag, elaborately tooled in the Brazilian manner and wholly lined with pigskin. There is a business-like brief-case, too, and a man's travel or over-night bag that can double as brief case.

Summer-time bags at the Brazil Shop are made of coconut fibre, left natural in the case of a small mesh draw-string bag with a broom of fibres on its top, or dyed beautifully in the case of a giant green knitting or shopping bag with flamboyant flowers sewed to its front. These bags are lined with a cotton print and we don't see how you can carry one without a basket of fruit on your head.

If you're shopping for a bride or just for your own curiosity, the Brazil Shop's new collection will be interesting and rewarding.

Polish Up the Mink. For all animals whose pets have found their way into fur coats, this is Hollanderizing time. You do not achieve a Hollanderized garment merely by tossing your coat into the washing machine -- muskrat is not dacton. The coat must be specially cleaned and processed by the Hollanderizing people who perform their rites in Newark. You may now, instead of trekking all the way up the Turnpike, simply leave your coat at 30 Moore at University Cleaners.

They have just been named a Hollander agent. This means that University is authorized to take your coat and send it to the people who do the job. You insure your coat at University and it's taken care of all the way to Newark and back. Then you may leave it for summer in the University's storage vault and pick it up next fall. (You may even extend the insurance at a very low rate, so that the coat is protected while you're wearing it next winter.)

Hollanderizing gives a sheen and gloss to those hair tips that can lose their lustre over the years. It is, of course, a nationally-known method for the cleaning and glazing of fur coats, safe and successful as it can be.

Money for Morven

It is expected that work may soon begin on the rehabilitation of Morven into a Governor's Mansion for the State of New Jersey if the appropriations bill currently before both houses of the legislature is approved as it stands.

The Joint Legislative Appropriations committee has indicated that this bill item calling for $111,270 for the restoration of Morven. This amount, coupled with the amount appropriated by the 1954 Legislature, would approach closely the figure of $722,000 estimated by a special committee appointed by Governor Meyner as necessary for full renovation.

The bill also appropriates $2,800,000 for a Department of Law and Public Safety Building to include space for the distribution of licenses by mail, and to be built on the Route 1 in Lawrence Township.

ford Jay, popcorn; Miss Lisa Fairman, fortunes in flowers.

One of the features of the fete will be a fried chicken luncheon prepared by Kenwick's Catering Service and served by the women of the Second Presbyterian Church. Tickets for the luncheon, being sold in advance because of the necessity of planning the number of luncheon servers, may be purchased at Hinkson's for $1.50. Lunch will be served from 12 to 2. The food has been donated by Cox's Delicatessen, Esvin's Market, Mortimer Feldman, Princeton General Store, Royal Smeets Store, Souther's Market, The Food Mart, Toto's Market, Rosedale Locker, Nassau Quality Market, Rockwood Dairy, Ball Bakery, Nills Bakery, Reilly's & P. A. Acme and Lou's Market.

Quota Exceeded. Harold E. Zaver, chapter chairman, has announced that the Red Cross campaign for 1954 has exceeded its quota of $38,945, contributing $42,258 to the 1955 national campaign.

With additional gifts expected shortly, it is anticipated that this year's drive will end as one of the most successful ever in Princeton. Arthur Wengel, campaign chairman, expressed his thanks to the community, the chairmen and volunteers who participated. Chairmen included James A. McFadden, business division; Prof. Walter C. Johnson, and Mrs. Clarence Spencer, residential canvassing; Raymond M. Page, branches and auxiliaries; and Miss Grace V. White-man, public information.

Cyclathon. The time-honored sport of cycling received both a shot in the arm and a nip in the face over Princeton's House-parties weekend as two undergraduates vied with each other to inject a new type of humor into the antics of Tigers and their dates.

Peter T. McKinney, III, a senior, and Robert K. Schulze, a junior, staged a cyclathon which netted Schulze only publicity but McKinney a fistful of financial reward. The Princeton senior collected a $50 bill at the finish line and $200 several days later as a guest on the "Welcome Travelers" television show.

It all started when McKinney, who is a former musical director for the Princeton Tigerettes and strictly a campus cyclist, found he didn't have enough money to buy a $75 University Store bill. Guaranteed two-thirds of this sum if he would ride a bicycle from Vassar College at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., to Princeton. He took up the challenge. Coupled with this excuse to frolic a little in the spring breezes prior to House-parties was a second reason: if it took a team of Yale students to ride in relay fashion from New Haven to Vassar one Princeton senior should easily be able to bike the 150 miles between Vassar and here.

Schulze, who has done some professional biking, decided to cycle both ways (from Princeton to Vassar and back), trying to lap McKinney. As it turned out, they finished within two minutes of each other, and it was a close race from New Brunswick on in —Continued on Page 5

McKinney, who was labeled "Marathon" by classmates, biked 127.1 miles in 13 hours, 29 minutes, 3.8 seconds. Schulze, who acquired the nickname of "Superspokes", went twice the distance, 254 miles, in 22 hours and 15 minutes flat.

"Marathon" put on a burst of speed to cross the finish line on Prospect Avenue and then collapsed as admiring supporters pressed him for a quote. "I'm pretty tired," he replied.

Posing for a picture afterwards with "Superspokes", he referred to the caption as "A bankrupt senior and a game junior." As a result of the popularity of the stunt this year, Kopp's Cycle Shop has offered to sponsor a Vassar Cyclathon each spring during Houseparties, with the winner receiving a new bicycle.

Breakfast Dance. The Princeton High School Senior breakfast dance, to follow the farewell party at the high school, is set for Friday night, at the Nassau Tavern. The hours are from 12:15 to 4:15 a.m.

Bernie Olhry's orchestra will provide music for dancing. During intermission, several members of the Princeton University Triangle Club will present skills arranged by Brooks Jones, president of the club. Laron R. Munson of the Junior Chamber of Commerce has arranged for the following chaperones: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Swinburne, Mr. and Mrs.

Mail Delivery Changes

City and mounted route delivery service will be extended by the Princeton Post office on June 1. Foot delivery will be provided to residents of North Jefferson Road, Deerpath, Clover, Clearview, Regatta Row and Lake Lane. Their houses must be numbered and mail slots or receptacles installed.

Mounted route service (the post office's phrase for use of a car by mail carriers) will be provided directly to residents of Poe, Roper, Random, Littlebrook, Marion, and Gulick Roads and Shady Brook, provided their houses are numbered. This will permit them to place rural boxes in front of their residences, whereas in many cases the boxes have been some distance away on the Princeton-Kingston Road.

J. R. Lasley, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Duschne, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bahadurian, Dr. and Mrs. Clark Gleeson, Leonard Newton and Mr. and Mrs. Munson.

Among the civic groups which to date have contributed to the expense of the affair are Princeton High School Parent-Teacher Association, West Windsor Lions Club, West Windsor P.T.A., Women's Club of Hopewell, Lawrenceville P.T.A., Lawrence Township School No. 4 Community Club, Lawrence Junior High P.T.A., Princeton Rotary Club, Plainsboro Lions Club, South Brunswick Lions Club, Princeton Lions Club and Ladies' Auxiliary, Fire Company No. 1 of West Windsor.

Door prizes have been contributed by Farr Hardware, La Vake's, University Laundry, Stonewald's, Douglas MacDaid, Inc. and the University Store. Robert Davison, president of the senior class, heads the student committee consisting of the following seniors: Lois Ellis, Sandra Green, Penny Hunt, Patricia Nicoll, Walter Phillips, William Richardson, Joan Updike and John VanSant.

Mrs. F. M. Raubinger and Mrs. James A. Arnold, Jr., are co-chairmen of the P.T.A. Committee. Mrs. Samuel D. Atkins is chairman of refreshments assisted by Mrs. Dean Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Judson Culheth, Mrs. Albert Van Zandt, Mrs. K. L. Seavy and Mrs. Cyril Davison. Mrs. Philip H. Cleveland Stamps at Hun

The only intact stamp collection of a U. S. President will be on display for the first time Saturday at The Hun School's annual Spring Festival. Stamps collected by the late Grover Cleveland, ranging from those first printed in 1847 until the time of his death, will be shown at the school from 2 to 5 as one of the many unusual exhibits arranged for the occasion.

The collection is now the property of Frederick R. Sayen of Hamilton Square. Mr. Sayen purchased the collection from Mrs. Thomas J. Preston, who was first Mrs. Grover Cleveland. The Bureau of Engraving presented it to the former President when he left the White House and made Princeton his home.

Thursday, May 26, from 10 to 12 in the morning and between 1 and 3 in the afternoon. This is the only day registration will occur.

Parents have been requested by the school to bring baptismal and birth registration with the pupil being registered. Record of small pox vaccination and diphtheria inoculations with booster dose received within the past three years should also be included.

Testimonial Banquet Planned. The Prince Hall Affiliation of the Aaron Lodge No. 9, F. and A.M., will hold a testimonial dinner in honor of the three oldest past masters of the lodge Thursday evening. The dinner will take place in the Masonic Temple, John and Maclean Streets, at 8:30.

Those honored will be Past Master Edward Boyd, who served as Worshipful Master in 1922; Past Master David Lewis, 1931, and Past Master Hasker Saxton, who served in 1932. Dancing and entertainment will follow the dinner.

Eldridge B. Cooper, Past Grand Master of the State of New Jersey, will be the principal speaker at the dinner. James Stryker will serve as master of ceremonies.

Spring Meeting Planned. The Spring Meeting of the Trenton-Princeton Mount Holyoke Club will be held at the home of Miss Esther Todd, Herrontown Road, Wednesday at 5:30 p.m. Those planning to attend are asked to contact Miss Todd by Monday.

In addition to Miss Todd, Miss Elizabeth Kimball and Mrs. J. W. Miller, Jr. will serve as hostesses for the meeting. All alumnae in the area are invited to attend.

Fellowship Day Planned. May Fellowship Day will be observed this Thursday at 8 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Department of Christian Social Relations of the Princeton Council of Church Women. All church women in the community are invited to attend the service, which will be held in the Methodist Church.

Miss Esther C. Stamats, Director of the Division of Christian Social Relations of the General Department of United Church Women will speak on "The Responsible Christian Family", and a brief social hour will follow her talk.

May Fellowship is an annual observance, one of three days marked by the Princeton Council of Church Women and their affiliate, the General Council of Church Women. World Community Day in November, and the World Day of Prayer during Lent are the other observances.

Mrs. George Thomas is President of the Princeton Council and her committee includes the following representatives from the eight member churches: Mrs. Henry Garner, First Baptist; Mrs. Frank Heacock, Princeton Methodist; Mrs. Edna Holland, Mt. Pisgah A.M.E.; Mrs. Minot Morgan Sr., First Presbyterian; Mrs. Walter E. Beers, Second Presbyterian; Mrs. J. Lawrence Broderick, Trinity; Mrs. William R. Brearley, Society of Friends; and Mrs. Howard B. Waxwood, Witherspoon Presbyterian.

Princetonian at Assembly. James Moore, elder of the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church, has been chosen by the New Brunswick Presbytery to represent this area as a Commissioner at the 167th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church. The Assembly will meet in Los Angeles for a week starting this Thursday. There are 41 Presbyterian churches in the New Brunswick Presbytery, and three other delegates besides Mr. Moore have been elected. He is the only representative from Princeton.

New Pastor at Mt. Pisgah. The Rev. Y. L. Sims has accepted a call to serve as pastor of the Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Church, and has already assumed his pastoral duties. He succeeds the Rev. John W. Johnson who has accepted a call to Plainfield, where he will occupy the pulpit of the Mt. Zion A.M.E. Church.

The Rev. Mr. Sims comes to Princeton from St. Luke's A.M.E. in Newark. Ministers who are affiliated with A.M.E. churches serve a maximum of eight years in one church, and are then eligible to receive calls from other churches. The Rev. Mr. Johnson, who came to Princeton in May, 1947, celebrated his 25th year in the ministry last month.

REGULAR SERVICES

News of the Theatres

BALLET SOCIETY

The Princeton Ballet Society presentation of "Cinderella," a ballet in three acts with original choreography by Mrs. Audrey Estey to music by Prokofiev, will be performed at McCarter Theatre next Friday, May 27, at 3:30 p. m., and again on Saturday, May 28, at 8:15 p. m.

The Friday afternoon performance is the last in this season's Children's Entertainment Series and tickets are $1.35, 85c and 40c. (Tickets printed May 20 will be used.) Tickets for Saturday evening at $2.50 for adults and half-price for children 16 and under are now on sale at the University Store (tel. 3333).

Elinor Coffee will be seen in the title role, while Barbara Dilley will play the fairy godmother and Laney Johnson the prince. The identity of the ugly stepisters is being kept a secret. Mrs. Manuel Greenblatt and Mrs. Chester R. Stroup will play the accompaniment on dual pianos.

A colorful performance is again being planned. In the first act the fairy godmother will be assisted by a corps of fairies costumed as crocuses, summer flowers, autumn leaves and snowflakes to represent the seasons. In the second act Cinderella will go to the ball in a coach drawn by four horses. More than 150 children are taking part in the production.

COMMUNITY PLAYERS

"Cuckoos on the Hearth", final offering of the season by the Community Players, opens this Thursday at 8:30 in Murray Theatre on the University Campus. The play will run from Thursday to Saturday and again next week from Wednesday to Saturday. Tickets are on sale at the University Store and the box office.

The play is a combination of mystery and comedy involving a retiring writer and spies who try to steal a top secret government formula from a scientist at a Maine coast boarding house. It was written by Parker Fennelly, who recently appeared with Eva Le Gallienne in "Southwest Corner" on Broadway and television. "Cuckoos on the Hearth" was first produced by Brock Pemberton in 1941, starring Percy Kilbride and directed by Antoinette Perry.

The Players are following a new theory of familiarizing actors and actresses with backstage technical problems, hence the performers will handle the lightboard and sound effects, and have worked on scenery, props and other matters. Stuart Duncan, director of the show and Players' president, is his own stage manager, while Hildegard Rose, assistant director, is in charge of backstage.

Principal members of the cast are John Gaston, Douglas Dougherty, Manuel Martinez, Lorin Zissman, Mrs. Dorothy Urban, Chalmers Dale and Mrs. Jean Sharpless. Others include Mrs. Wilma Harris, Lib Diaforli, William Duryee, Mrs. Ruth Gage and Mrs. Edna Robinson.

nessdays and Saturdays at 2.
Sam Jaffe, the "Gunga Din" of the movies years ago and holder of an impressive list of dia-matic accomplishments, will be co-starring with Bill McGuire, currently in "King of Hearts" and well known for his work in "The Moon Is Blue" here and in England.

"Reclining Figure" is a comedy
by Harry Kurnitz, Philadelphia
receptionist and Hollywood scenar-ist. Mr. Kurnitz' satirical knife is out for the phonies, both dealers and collectors, who inhabit
the art world.

Smooth "King." The Bucks season bounded off to a smooth, slick start with the production of the comedy "King of Hearts." The Eleanor Brooke-lean Kerr work is full of laughs and its smoothness went hand in hand with the production. Most attractive intel.

Donald Cook, always a master of clever, witty comic parts, excels as Larry Larkin, the wordy, windy and phoney cartoonist he first played on Broadway. Mr.
Cook's timing and pacing sets
things right for any show.

Kim Hunter succeeded in the slightly infuriating role of Lark-in's secretary and bride-to-be who finally gets the word, while
Mr. McGuire by underplaying made an appealing hero.

Rex Thompson, the 7-year-old from the original cast, was first rate, but an even smaller performer, Palmer Ward, got the biggest laugh of the show with an ancient gag about the kid who's already had lunch. The smaller parts were strong and they included a large and unusual dog
who performs as Figaro.

W. Broderick Hackett, who seems to do apartment sets to perfection, contributed another ape job, well-performed. The Playhouse per usual showed a smart, highly professional production, inaugurating what will probably be another crowd-pleasing season.

FILM CLASSIC SERIES

"Pennywhistle Blues," considered the outstanding film made in South Africa, will be the fifth and final presentation of the current spring film classic series sponsored by Group Arts. The film will be shown this Friday.

McCosh Hall 50 on the University Campus is the location for the series. Showings are at 7 and 9 p.m. and tickets may be obtained at the door.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Purple Plain (May 18-21) stars
Gregory Peck in a story about a war-weary RAF squadron
leader who finds love and adventure in Burma. His rehabilitation and romantic interest is provided through one Win Min Than, a lovely Burmese girl. The film (made for the British Rank organization) needs sharpening. In Technicolor.

Man Without a Star (May 22-24) features Kirk Douglas in a strong western drama, filled with Technicolor scenery, action, some humor and a few songs. Jeanne Crain plays an unscrupulous rancher and Douglas (in a crackling performance) eventually quits her employ to side with the small ranchers. Claire Trevor, William Campbell, Maria Corday
and others take part.

Daddy Long Legs (May 25-28)
is a venerable story brought sharply up to date and made into a pleasing musical. Fred Astaire and Leslie Caron make the older man young girl romance a fun thing, bring in laughter, plenty of dancing and music. Cinema-Scope and color.

Concert Preview. The Princeton University Concerts committee has announced that 1955-56 subscriptions for Series One and Series Two are now being taken. The concerts are entering their 62nd year and once again an interesting and varied set of programs are listed.

Through endowment by the Philena Forbes Fine and Jessie Peabody Frothingham memorial funds, the concerts are sold to Princeton at prices below cost. Subscriptions are now being filled in the order of their receipt, and full ticket information will be found in the advertisement on this page.

Series One will open with a recital by pianist Pietro Scarpini, followed by the American Negro soprano Leontyne Price, who enjoyed outstanding success singing the leading role in "Porgy and Bess" for two and a half years.

The annual appearance of the Cleveland Orchestra under George Szell will be the third concert, and the series will conclude with the Mozartian of Salzburg, Ernst Marzendorfer, conductor. The 45-member orchestra will be making a special American tour in commemoration of the 200th anniversary of Mozart's birth.

Series Two will consist of five concerts next season, all of them by outstanding musical groups. The American Chamber Orchestra will open the series with an all-Mozart program.

The Budapest Quartet will give two concerts in January, with an additional violinist, Nathan Gordon, taking part in the second. The Juilliard String Quartet will then present an evening of modern music.

The series will conclude with a performance by the New York Pro Musica Antiqua. The ensemble, dedicated to the performance of medieval, renaissance and early baroque music, consists of six singers and four instrumentalists, who play the viol, violin, violoncello, recorders, harpsichord and organ.

Professor Edward Hubler is chairman of the concerts committee. Members are Mrs. Charles Grosvenor Osgood, Mrs. Bradford Brooks Locke, Mrs. Harold Willis Dodds, Mrs. McClintock Ellis, Mrs. Walter Lowrie, Mrs. Ernest Glen Weaver, Mrs. Wilbur M. Young, Mrs. Roy Dickinson Welch, Mrs. James Barnes, Mrs. McKim Norton, Professor Ernest Theodore DeWald, Professor Edward T. Cone, Professor Carroll C. Pratt, David Shoup and Professor Elliot Forbes.

JAZZ CONCERT

Dixieland, swing and modern jazz will be the ingredients of a concert by Stan Rubin and his Tigertown Five this Saturday evening at 8:30 in McCarter Theatre.

Tickets for a "Study in Jazz" may be obtained at the University Store, Hinkson's and Frederick Harris. They are priced at $1.50 and proceeds will go towards the civic projects of the Princeton Junior Chamber of Commerce.

In his first formal appearance at Princeton, Rubin will open with his highly regarded Dixieland group, which has had great success on the University Campus as well as in nightspots here and abroad.

The Swing Sextet, composed of members of the larger Tigertown Five group, will be next on the program, followed by the Johnny Eaton Quartet, which will play Eaton's arrangements of modern jazz.

PRINCETON HIGH CONCERT

Some 185 Princeton High School students from three musical organizations will present the school's annual band and orchestra concert this Thursday, May 19, at 8:30 p.m. in the school auditorium. The 66-piece orchestra under the direction of Louis Richards will open with works by Wagner, Bach, Isaac, Bizet and Leroy Anderson.

Walter Horner will direct the prep band of 43 members in works — Continued on Page 20

by Rubik, Weber, and Cheviote. The Topper senior band under Mr. Horne will perform compositions by Beethoven, Goetz, Brahms, Saint-Saens, Bach and Tchaikovsky. A trombone choir consisting of James Harbo, A. hold Alden, Ralph Beckman, Dan Broder, Billy Craven, Tod Cantrell, George Kingston and Fritz Munster will play "Hail Trombone" by Frankford.

MURRAY THEATRE
A concert of music composed by students of music at Princeton University will be presented this Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in Murray Theatre. The concert is open to the public without charge, but it should be noted that a similar concert earlier this year drew more listeners than could be taken care of.

The program will include a piano suite by Eric Salzman; piano pieces by Pohlman Malliaris; pieces for madrigal group by Harry Powers and Peter Westergaard; a piece for string quartet by Godfrey Winham; a string quartet by Malcolm Peyton; songs for baritone, piccolo and drum and "Appointment" for two flutes by Stanley Seeger; a duo for flute and piano by Mr. Westergaard; "Rhapsody for Violin and Piano" by Jack Urbont; and "Structure" for two wind instruments by Richard Maxfield.

Performers will include: Mathilde McKinney, pianist; Gloria Strassner, cellist; a madrigal group composed of Princeton residents under the direction of Professor Elliott Forbes; and numerous musicians from the University, Westminster Choir College and from New York. Jacques Moudet will conduct Mr. Maxfield's "Structure."

The concert has been organized through the University's music department with the cooperation of the Friends of Music at Princeton. It is made possible by the Roy Dickinson Welch Memorial Fund.

thing about which of two husbands the star wants to hang on to Marge and Gower Champion, the dancing team, assure, along with Jack Lemmon, Good songs, elaborate production numbers, fairly risqué but uninspired dialogue. Cinemascope and color are other features.

Ugetsu (May 23-25), a Japanese import with English titles, brings an unusual artistic quality to a story of legend and reality. Possibly due to its "Rashomon" style, the film tells the story of two peasants, their wives, and conflicts with love and feudal warfare. The special compositional style of Japanese photography and music puts "Ugetsu" in a special class.

Seven Angry Men (May 26-28) is an unusual attempt to picture the career of John Brown, played by Raymond Massey, who sought to end slavery in this country by violence. There is drama in the various highlights of his pre-Civil War career, but the narrative tends to be muddled. Brown's sons follow him by his side, but a conflict is established, chiefly through Jeff Hunter who wants to marry Debra Paget.

Father's Night Set. Fathers will be guests at the final meeting for the current school year of the Princeton Township Parent-Teacher Association next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Valley Road School. The Father's Night program is planned by J.B. Johnson and G. V. Linnholm, co-chairmen. Assisting with the program are Frank Schmetz, Dan Zisman, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ramus, Paul Freeman, Mrs. Thomas McCreary, Mr. and Mrs. Erling Dond and Jack Rinalover. Following the program, the fathers will serve refreshments.

Business Meeting. The Young Republican Club has set its annual business meeting for next Tuesday in the Ranger Room of the Nassau Tavern. Chairman Richard W. Baker, Jr., will review the activities of the club during its first year as a formal organization. The meeting begins at 8:15 p.m. The report of the nominating committee, election of officers and discussion of plans for the coming year will be the main items of business. When the club was founded in June of 1954, it was composed of 34 members. It now has a membership of 161 and is the largest Young Republican group in Mercer County. Refreshments will be served.

Cup Race Saturday. The annual Carnegie Cup regatta, involving the freshman, junior varsity and varsity crews of Cornell, Princeton and Yale, is the athletic feature of the coming weekend. The first race is scheduled for 4:45, with the jayvees leaving the stake boats at 5:10 and the varsity at 5:30.

Off what occurred on the Potomac River at Washington last week, Cornell is favored to sweep this Saturday's regatta. The Red did not win the Eastern College Sprint Championship (Penn's fine crew taking the title by a length and a quarter) but Cornell did capture the Rowe Cup on a basis of its three crews' all-around performance. The varsity was second, the jayvees were first and the Ithacans' freshmen were second to Harvard.

In contrast, Yale was fourth in the varsity race with Princeton fifth; the Elis were second in the jayvee event, with Princeton fourth; and the Tiger freshmen were third while Yale was fifth. The races were over a 2,000-meter course, whereas the Carnegie Cup will find the crews rowing a mile and three-quarters, but the greater distance this Saturday does not figure to affect their relative ability.

Princeton surprised pleasantly by qualifying for all three finals, emphasizing its improvement by the fact that Wisconsin and Harvard, both of which had beaten the Tigers in the Compton Cup race, failed to survive their heats. Dutch Schoch used the two-week interval before the Eastern Championships to shake up his boat, installed Mike McTigue as stroke and is now going with five sophomores.

'Fifties Beaten. The Nassau 150-lb. shell ran into rough water and tough luck at Cambridge in the lightweight championships. A passing launch kicked up enough swell so that the knee under the sixth seat was broken and the crew had to row in a borrowed boat. Princeton finished third, behind Penn and M.I.T., both of which it had beaten earlier in the season.

The Tigers will go after the Goldthwait Cup this weekend on the Housatonic at Derby, Conn. Since they took the measure of Harvard in the varsity event last week, with Yale failing to qualify, they are likely to trim their Big Three rivals on Saturday. Last week's loss, however, was tough to take. Victory would have brought it a trip to Henley, England, for the international races this summer.

Two Tigers Win. The crowd of 1,500 that sat in on the Heptagonal Games at Palmer Stadium Saturday got a full share of highly enjoyable action. Cornell won the team title when it topped Princeton's time in the mile relay by a tenth of a second, thereby finishing with a total of 44 1/28 points to 44 for defending champion Yale. It was the closest decision in the 21 years that the event has been held.

Highlights of the day for Princetonians were Captain Joe Myers' triumph in the 440, which he won by six yards in setting a meet record of 47.8 seconds, and Jack Vodrey's dramatic triumph in the gruelling two-mile run. The Nassau sophomore was expected to finish third or fourth (where he ran the first seven laps) but he moved into the lead with 300 yards to go and roared off all efforts to catch him.

Gabriel Markisohn was clocked in 9.6 in the 100-yard dash, but still ran second to Penn's John Haines, whose 9.5 effort was also a meet record. The Tigers placed second in both the 440-yard and mile-relay, despite the fact that they set a track record of 3:18.1 in the latter event. It lasted about five minutes, Cornell running the distance in 3:18 flat to pick up the necessary points to edge Yale.

The Tigers were credited with 24 1/2 points, a figure that wound them up in seventh place. Doug Carpenter's fourth-place tie in the high jump was all they could collect in seven field events.

Lacrosse String Extended. In four Yale-Princeton contests at New Haven, the Elis came out top dog three times. Their 7-2 triumph in tennis toppled the Tigers from the first-place spot in Eastern Association standings they had held since 1949. Their 3-0 victory in baseball removed Eddie Donovan's nine from the Ivy League race, while the Eli golfers took the Eastern Inter-collegiate title, finishing ahead of Harvard, Princeton and 13 other teams.

One contest that the Blue had been hoping to win got away. On a goal in the last ten seconds by Don MacElwee, Ferris Thomsen's lacrosse team triumphed, 7-6, thus preserving the string of victories that was started in 1932. Yale took a 9-1 record into the game, and had been favored to win; the Tigers' success enabled them to finish their season with a 6-4-1 mark, particularly worthwhile in view of the lack of depth and the injuries that removed three key players from action mid-way through the season.

Flippin Hits Hard. About all that is left for the ball team is a shot at third place in the league standings and the possibility that Royce Flippin may win the individual batting title. The Tiger football captain-elect has caught fire in the last fortnight, and his three-for-four day at New Haven elevated him to a lofty .448 average in circuit play. Following the mid-week game with Penn on University Field, the Orange and Black concludes its season Saturday with a trip to Cornell.

Yale won last week on a three-run sixth, with southpaw Ken Mackenzie blanking the Tigers. Dick Emery did not allow a hit through the first five innings, but a pair of wild throws by Catcher Carl Pope put Yale runners in scoring position in the sixth. One run crossed the plate on a sacrifice fly, and three straight hits drove in the rest.

Earlier in the week, the Tigers had rallied to edge Columbia, 4-3. Three runs in the seventh brought them from behind a 2-1 deficit, and when starter Jim Gibson ran into trouble in the eighth, Emery nailed down the decision in relief.

Pete Millard walked to open the rally. Captain John Easton singled and Bill Agnew's bunt that went for a hit filled the bases. Hank Thomay's squeeze brought in Millard and Pope's single over second scored Easton and Agnew. The split during the week left the season's record at 11-6.

Other Action. A tennis match against Cornell is set for the Church Courts at 2:30, bringing the season in that sport to a close. The golfers take on Army at West Point, with the track team traveling to Ithaca to meet powerful Cornell.

SPORTS IN PRINCETON

8 and the annual home-and-home series with Yale are the remaining contests on the spring schedule. Gabe Marklsohn and Joe Myers will head the Princeton contingent in the I.C.A.-A championships at Randall's Island, N. Y., next weekend, and the Tigers crews will go to Syracuse in June for the national regatta on the 18th. The spring season was somewhat below par for Princeton entries. It marked the first time since 1948 that not a single eastern championship had been won. In 1953, the Tigers collared four—in baseball, tennis, lacrosse, and 150-lb. crew. The last two ranked as national titles.

Artistic in Top Spot. Artistic Clippers stood at the top of the Eagles' Community Softball League as the third week of play began on a basis of two victories in as many starts. Nassau Social Club and the Sunbeams had both won once; Applied Science, the Jokers and the Eagles split their first two decisions, while RCA and Frazee's had both lost twice.

Doug Watson hurled both of Artistic's triumphs, adding a 12-4 victory over Applied Science to his season's record. Jack Rhubart collected two of the victors' 11 hits, while John Donaldson weighed in with a triple. Watson held the losers to five; Ray Pyontek pitched for Applied Science.

Harry Kahny outthrew Paul Parisot as Sunbeam beat the Eagles, 11-8. Hooker Rauch of the Eagles had a homer. The game was called at the end of 4½ innings by darkness, after having been delayed when Jim Jackson cracked a bone in his ankle.

Nassau Social Club coasted to a 17-5 victory over Frazee's, the veteran Huck McCreedy limiting the losers to eight hits. George Sickie collected three of the Social Club's safe blows. Howie Cupples had a pair and drove in three runs, while Harry Burton's homer paced the losers. The game was marked by ten errors.

Tony Gaylord pitched the Jokers to a 9-5 victory over RCA, limiting them to four hits. Tom Friel caught for the victors, while the RCA battery was Lefty Lloyd and Jim Kahny.

Games next Tuesday send RCA against the Sunbeams and Artistic against Frazee's. The Jokers and the Social Club are paired, as are the Eagles and Applied Science.

Hurdles Mark Set. Princeton High's shuttle relay team set a record of 1:05 for the 480-yard high hurdles at the 20th annual Long Branch Relay Carnival Saturday. The mark was set in Central Jersey competition.

Alan Graham, Donald Johnson, Thomas Shope and Carl Brown set the high hurdle standard. They also took top honors the 480-yard low hurdles.

The Long Branch Relay Carnival featured competition in the NJSIAA and Central Jersey divisions of Groups I-II, III and IV. The Little Tigers placed fourth in the two-mile relay, their only scoring in NJSIAA competition.

PHS Oowns Lawrenceville.

Princeton High's baseball team registered its third victory of the season last week by defeating Lawrenceville, 7-5, in Lawrenceville. A 10-hit attack by the Little Tigers accounted for the triumph.

PHS jumped off to a four-run lead in the top of the first frame, capitalizing on walks and miscues in the Lawrenceville defense. The addition of single markers in the second, third and sixth innings provided the Tigers with the winning margin.

The Lawrenceville nine matched Princeton's four-run rally with one of its own in the third stanza, adding three singles to two walks for the four tallies. By this time, however, four runs were not enough. PHS hurler Russ Watson was credited with the victory, his second of the season.

Hun Takes Two. The Hun School baseball team notched its seventh and eighth triumphs last week by defeating Croydon Hall and Bryn Athyn Academy. Both games were road contests.

Second-baseman Jim Lavan carried the major part of the mound load in the Hun's victory over Croydon Hall, 10-4. When starting hurler Herman Degwitz's control broke down early in the contest, Lavan came on to relieve him, striking out seven and giving up no earned runs. Jim Cantwell replaced Lavan at second.

Bruce Davis tallied his sixth victory in eight games by pitching Hun to a 5-3 decision over Bryn Athyn Academy Friday. Ken Zaubner, whose two-run single in the top of the fourth stanza put Hun ahead to stay, was the game's offensive star with three hits in four trips to the plate. Davis fanned 12, holding Bryn Athyn to three safeties.

Following a mid-week contest with Peddie here, The Hun School nine will journey to Solebury Friday. Hun will face Bordentown Military Institute away next Wednesday, then return home to close out its season against Delbarton on Saturday.

ments will be served following the meeting.

Smith Meeting. Mrs. Peter G. Cook, of Heathcote Farm, Kingston, will be hostess for the annual spring meeting of the Smith College Club of Princeton Tuesday at 4. She will be assisted by her mother, Mrs. John Folsom of New Hope, Mrs. Peter Miller and Mrs. Henry Chauncey.

Elections for vice-president and secretary of the club will be held and recipients of Smith scholarships for the coming year will be announced. These scholarships are made possible from the proceeds of the annual auction held each year in January at Miss Fine's School. Mrs. Shepard Kimberly, II, president of the club, will conduct the meeting.

Forum to be Continued. As a result of the success of its first season, the Princeton Forum on Individual Liberties has planned to continue next fall its series of discussions on the Bill of Rights and its application to current problems. More than 300 participants attended the sessions during the past five weeks.

Four groups met weekly between the last of March and the first week of May to discuss the relationship between the individual's liberty and the public welfare. The ten Princetonians who led discussion groups are: Professors Gabriel Almond, William Beany, Marver Bernstein, Harold Chase, Ansley Coale, William Ehrenstein, Mark Heald, Charles Sellers, Lyman Spitzer and Lloyd Wells.

The Forum Committee members are: Mrs. William Babcock, Mrs. Margaretta Barr, Mrs. Harold Chernias, Mrs. Jess Epstein, Hugh Hoffman, the Rev. C. V. Maiker, Bryan V. Moore, Mrs. Marston Morse, Dilman Smith, Mrs. Stanley Smoyer, Richard Sullivan and Professor George Thomas.

Ford Fellowship Grants. Fred G. Burke, 222-B Halsey Street is one of 14 who have received Ford Foundation grants for study and research on Africa. The awards provide for up to two years' postgraduate work on the histories, cultures and current problems of African peoples.

The African Fellowships were granted to 10 students and four more advanced scholars. Mr. Burke, a graduate student in political science at Princeton University, will make a study of local government in Uganda. His special interest is the way and extent to which democratic processes and values have been absorbed at the "grass roots." The study will take him to England for six months and to Uganda for one year.

Mr. Burke studied at the University of Utah and received his B. A. Degree from Williams College in 1953. At Princeton, he has held a National Woodrow Wilson Fellowship. Currently, he holds a Saxeay Fellowship in Practical Ethics here.

"Modest Financial Success". The first "April Annual" presented by the Association of the N. J. Neuro-Psychiatric Institute recorded a profit of $247, but the event was termed a greater success in bringing persons to see the Institute, with its change from a limited custodial institution to a treatment and research center.

Proceeds came from the sale of articles made and donated by the Monday Club of Princeton, as well as articles from the Institute's occupational therapy section. There were also 301 paid reservations for luncheon; all proceeds will go towards a centralized, modern store to serve patients and visitors.

Weapons Paper Published. A paper on "Colonial Weapons" by Jac Weller, Princeton resident and real estate executive who is also an historian and expert on firearms, is appearing in the current issue of Ordinance, the magazine of the American Ordnance Association. The article discusses shoulder weapons used in early America from the matchlock caliver to the Brown Bess musket.

The American Ordnance Association is a nationwide, non-profit society of more than 300 executives, engineers and scientists of industry and the defense services. It is now in its 37th year. The association endeavors to assist in the solution of the technical and scientific problems incident to armament preparedness.

Pewter — once the mainstay of humble Colonial tables, has now come up in the world and it appears, gleaming like silver, in the window of the Silver Shop, 39 Palmer Square West. This pewter is made by The Stieff Company of Baltimore, without any lead at all. As a result, it needs no polishing and is therefore a boon to those who hate to polish silver.

Without the closest kind of inspection, in fact, you cannot distinguish it from silver. The pieces, called Williamsburg Pewter, are faithful reproductions of examples on display in the Exhibition Building at Colonial Williamsburg. There is a handsome coffee pot with square-footed pedestal, without handle, matching creamer and sugar with the same rich wood in contrast. The entire set is $50, and the prices right there because pewter does not carry a federal tax. The set, sugar and creamer may also be bought separately.

We also found a pint-and-a-half tankard for $15 that is custom-made for a graduation present, a thing called a pop bowl that was used for baby food but in the 18th century is now obviously an ash-tray, and a lovely little round bowl that could hold any flower in your garden. To order, there are candlesticks, heavy spoon and ladle, egg cup, a jelly cup, pots, porringers and plates of various sizes.

The Silver Shop offers to brides as bridesmaids presents a collection of very feminine silver jewelry, said in New York through George Jensen and of few here as a special find for Princeton. In the little jewelry case we saw ballet dancer pin-like small dolls; two be-ribboned ears seen from the back (these are relief, not full); necklaces, bracelets, earrings and necklaces formed of finely engraved leaves or shell designs that look like Arable silver work. Some of the silver has been antiqued, but most of it has the soft sheen of the silver itself.

Suitry Nights — need not be quite so bad, if the pajamas concerned are the new short ones they have at Landau's, 25 Witherspoon. For man or boy, these seersucker shorts are designed with surplus neck, cool-looking pastel colors, short sleeves, and gripper closings. For men at $2.95, boys at $2.25.

Summer night-wear for girls and women is also short, but most of the styles are cut like a bloomer. One departs from the bloomer girl style and presents a pair of Bermuda shorts in solid colors to match the striped pajama top. To add the final touch to this pajama game, the striped shirt is tailored enough to wear outdoors with slacks or a skirt. You could hop into a car in your pajamas, drive a commuter to his train and nobody would ever guess.

A waltz-length gown emphasizes its category with embroidered waltzers around the wide neck. They are blue on a yellow gown.

Little girls will not fret about having to go to bed by day, when they see small printed seersucker bloomer pajamas, the neck lines edged with nylon ruffle. These are $1.98 in sizes four to eight. Older girls may choose a flowered mother Hubbard style gown. Women whose sizes range from two to 32 will find summer night-wear at Landau's.

Bathing suits for women are one-piece in all-over prints like the scarecrows in chartreuse on navy suit, or the rust colored kittens on a purring cream-colored background. Suits start at $5.65.

There are new yard goods on the Landau shelves since we visited the store's opening last March. There are percales in prints and solids, dimity, seersucker, muslin, and organza for dresses or curtains. Try a Harlequin print for a summer pillow or cafe curtain.

For $1.98 you may buy at Landau's a sleeveless cotton blouse that comes in regular or extra sizes. One style shows blue on a white field, another is a soft blue solid like a summer sky. For $2.98, Stauden offers a flowered shirt with appliqued blue flowers on the collar. Dimity is the breezy fabric.

Club and Dr. Leon C. Nureck. The Midgut League will continue competition through June 10. The season's activities will culminate in the "World Series," a best two out of three playoff between the winners of the two leagues on June 13, 15 and 17 at Brookview Field. A mid-season break is in the offing for Memorial Day, May 30, when the "All-Star" game will be played at Brookview Field.

Managers for the teams are Del White and Jack O'Connell; Yankees, George Gallup and Herman English, Athletics; Barney Hoistington and Bruce Bedford, Red Sox; Elmer Greely and Jim Carter, Orioles; Jack Houghton and Jim Kahay, Tigers. In the National League are Harry Fichette and Harold Davis, Dodgers; George Greene and Charles Green, Giants; Ed Meyer and Bob Rosner, Braves; John Criscitello and Skippy Hall, Cardinals.

Seven fields are being used for the regular season contests, which take place on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evening each week. Marquand Park is located at the corner of Lavers Lane and Stockton Street, Mercer Field at the corner of Mercer Road and Hibben Road, and the M.C.A. Field behind the Y.M.C.A. at 120 John Street. The Princeton Country Day Field is at Western Way and Broadmead. The other three in use are the William and Olden Field near University Field, the Valley Road Field at the corner of Valley Road and Witherspoon Street, and the High School diamond at Guyot Avenue and Walnut Lane.

for HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS only!

The four most important things in any man's life!

His Birth —

His Death —

His Wife —

His Vocation

About your birth you have nothing to say. Your death is largely beyond your control. About the selection of your wife — you will have much less to say than you have been led to believe. But your vocation — it's your choice alone, it's in your own hands. You decide.

Engineering, as a vocation, is an opportunity that is knocking at your door, as opportunity has never knocked before.

The demand for graduate Engineers is increasing and colleges are graduating fewer each year. In 1954 the universities turned out only 19,000 graduates in the Engineering field compared with 50,000 in 1950. Obviously there is need for action to bring American youth and this opportunity together.

Within our state — or close by — there are a number of institutions with sound courses in Engineering training. It would be well to write them for information concerning preparation for Engineering degrees.

Published in commemoration of the 75 years of effective influence of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.
